with the exception of the last two names in the Quackenbos list, all the candidates on this tecket were members of the old vestry. There was a lot of canvassing going on diring the progress of the bulloting, and a great many ladies were present to watch the rotter. It was evident that the rooter strends were having things all their own way from the start, and when it was finally sinounced that the Quackenbos candidates are submerzed in the soup, the tecket reserving an average of eighteen votes to sixty mose for the rector's tacket, there was great specience. Dr. Rylance is so pleased himself with this badication on the part of his parishioners that he says he will not fire to collect the $19,000 damages which the lury awarded am in his suit against Lawyer Quackenbos.

"The Lion and the Lamb," the play by Will R. Wilson and Julius Lewis, that was produced at the Bilon Theatre last Summer, has been "let" in royalty to Gabrielle Du Sanid, who will begin a tour with it Sept. 15. Miss I'm Sanid will play Mie. Nodoz, her original part, that or a French ballet dancer. In the mean time she is do not a little Bootle's Baby "ing, and has been rehearsing for some time on the stage of Tony Pastor's Theatre.

A St. Louis lawyer made an argument the other day in defense of actors and actresses who are annoyed unnecessarily by attachments for small sums. He said that St. Louis had become notorious for the lart it had been playing in such actions. Perhaps this gentleman's experience with theatrical people had not been very large. There are people in this metropolis who bless the attachment as positively the only effective means of collecting a debt. Or course it is very annoying—for those attached.

Rumor says that the partnership between Henry E. Abbey and Maurice Grace will be dissolved. But that is one of the questions in which rumor alone can speak.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendal are to be elaborately feted upon their return to London. They are to be tendered a "function" idon't let anybody be commun enough to admit as ignorance on the subject of "functions", at the Hotel Metropole, in the English Metropolis, June 20. Already a sort of temporary organization has been formed with Miss Harnet Young as honorary secretary.

Fay Templeton is continually sending cumning little cable messages to her future manager. W. H. Lykens, te ling him of the lovely costumes she has, with plenty of so on, and a great deal of so terth. Broadway gossipers, who know the echilke elusiveness of the Templeton, don't hesitate to declare that he is going to retleft. But Mr. Lykens smiles in his own particularly ornamental way, and asserts that Fay would not mistreet him. He has now arranged for her to appear at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre in August.

George W. Lederer has a health to look after, so he is going to reinvigorate it by a trip to Havana, and then to San Francisco;

Nat Goodwin is going to play in London this Summer. He will open at George Edwardes's Gaiety Theatre. Mr. Goodwin ought to prove a great attraction on the other side of the Atlantic and George Edwarders cought to do everything in his power with that end in view. America is treating his Gaiety people rather nicely. There is much in reciprocity.

Prof. Herrmann was not at all disturbed when a member of the Howard Athenaum Specialty Company announced the other day in Boston that he was going to expose "La Cremation" and other conjuring tricks, "La Cremation, however, was not touched. Said Mr. Thurnaer, of Herrmann's forces yesterday: "Herrmann was delighted at the advertisement. The more exposes of conjuring tricks that are made the better is he pleased."

Herrmann's new theatre, formerly Dock-stader's, is going to be very ornamental with mirrors, electric lights, stained glass and all the rest of it.

the delight of the younger generation of New York.

Mr. Lerillard, who is in the South pleasure-limiting, recently sent a curious present to the flacquet Club. It was expressed in a long box and when Mr. F. H. Gould, in whose care the box was sent, took the cover off, he found a big alligator inside, in whose care the box was sent, took the cover off, he found a big alligator inside, in good spirits. The putor wore a fine steel-chain collar and a meek and lowly air. Not knowing what else to do with the beast, Mr. Gould sent it up to Dr. Conklin with the compriments of Mr. Lorillard and the Kacquet Club.
